

CHRISTMAS BALL A BIG SUCCESS

Dance Given at Trimble's Hall on Monday Night by Saltans Club
a Brilliant Affair

Occupying a prominent place in the social calendar of the holiday season was the dance given by the exclusive Saltans Club of this city, at Trimble Hall last evening. The affair, which was a most brilliant one, was given in honor of the college boys and girls who are spending their vacations at home and for a number of out-of-town guests. The dance hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion in the Christmas colors of red and green. Smith's Orchestra, of Lexington, furnished the music, playing all the latest airs, as well as some of the old-time favorites. At intermission a most sumptuous lunch was served at the Delicious Cafe, after which dancing was resumed, continuing until the "wee sma' hours."

Among the dancers were noted Misses Elmeta Hinton, of Paris; Mary Marvin Moore, of Ashland; Louise Stone, of Georgetown; Virginia Byron, Grace Crooks, Sara Crooks, Angie Young Jackson, Ida Belle Brother, Lucille Vice, of Owingsville; Mary K. CHRISTMAS BASKETS FOR MT. STERLING'S POOR

Under the direction and supervision of Mrs. Louella Norris, the community nurse, every poor family in this city was remembered with a well-filled basket, and it is due to her untiring efforts that the needy ones enjoyed a most excellent Xmas dinner. In each basket was a roast of beef, a half peck of potatoes, canned fruit and vegetables, candies and nuts.

The fact that this could be done was made possible by the very generous contributions by private citizens and the History Club, Junior Women's Club, Tuesday Club, Junior Missionary Society of the Methodist church and the Baptist Sunday school. The baskets were packed at the rest room by Mrs. Norris and her committee and delivered Wednesday afternoon. McCarty Brothers' donated the use of a car for this purpose.

WHISKEY STOLEN FROM TRAIN

Unique Method Applies to Advantage by Supposed Professionals
In Draining Whiskey Barrel

A carload of fine Old McBrayer whiskey, which was being shipped from the distillery here to Mexico, was broken into Friday night, the thieves employing a novel method of gaining access to the booze. They bored a hole through the bottom of the car, which was on a siding, and completely drained one barrel of its contents. Police and detectives are at work on the case, and it is likely that arrests will be made within the next few days.

MAN STABBED AT WINCHESTER DEPOT

Sidney A. Adams, known as "Sleepy Sidney," was stabbed with a pocket knife last night by Charles Fitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Fitch. The affair occurred just after the arrival in Winchester of the C. & O. train from Lexington, and is said to have resulted from the aggression of Adams in attempting to force a passage through the crowd in the narrow aisle of the train.

Fitch, who was accompanied by his father, R. O. Fitch, remonstrated with Adams, but thought no further of the incident, he said, until he found Adams waiting apparently, in an ugly mood, when they alighted from the train. According to Fitch, Adams approached them and struck R. O. Fitch, using offensive language. Fitch then drew his knife and struck at Adams.

Dr. Browne Ishmael, who treated Adams, after the occurrence, said the left lung was affected. The man was taken to his home on First avenue. The family recently moved to Winchester from the Ruckerville neighborhood. Young Adams was recently discharged from army service and was en route home from Pennsylvania. He is a son of A. K. Adams.

Young Adams is under indictment in Lexington for the theft of an overcoat from Hughes Spurr, and his case was set for January 5. It is not probable he will be able to be present.

Mr. Fitch is well known and prominently connected here, being the grandson of Mrs. J. F. Trumbo, of this city.

BUYS TOWN HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Highland have purchased of Robert L. Coleman his handsome modern residence property on North Maysville street, and will make their home in this city. The price paid was $11,000, and possession will be given March 1st. Mr. and Mrs. Coleman and family will make their home with Mrs. Coleman's mother, Mrs. Albert Hoffman.

HON. JOHN G. WINN CANDIDATE FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

It is stated, authoritatively, that Hon. John G. Winn, of this city, will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge of this district at the primary election next August, to fill out the unexpired term of the late Judge William A. Young.

Mr. Winn is 57 years of age, is a graduate of the University of Virginia and has for many years been one of the leading lawyers of this community; he is a man of clean and correct personal habits and is in every way eminently fitted for the office of Circuit Judge.

Mr. Winn has never held public office, but has always been an active and consistent Democrat, and has given much time and effort in behalf of Democratic nominees.

At this time of public unrest the proper administration of the office of Circuit Judge is especially important to the welfare of the country, and the voters of the district are to be congratulated upon the opportunity to select a man for this office of the qualifications and fitness of Mr. Winn.

Mr. Winn enters the race with assurances of support from leading Democrats from all parts of the district and it is needless to say that he will be a formidable factor in the primary.

JUDGE PREWITT TO BE A CANDIDATE

Hon. Henry R. Prewitt, recently appointed Circuit Judge to succeed the late Judge Will A. Young, when seen by a representative of the Advocate, said:

"Yes, I will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge before the coming August primary for the remainder of Judge Young's term, and will shortly authorize you to announce me as such. I make this statement now in order that the voters of the district may know my intentions and assure them I shall be ever grateful for their support and influence."

MRS. RIDDELL CROSSES DIVIDE

An Aged Woman Passes to the Great Beyond to Reap the Reward She
So Richly Deserves

Yesterday morning forty minutes past twelve, Mrs. Lou Riddell, past four score years, closed her earthly mission and entered on her rewards. Her demise was due to the infirmities of age. She was eldest child of the late Charles L. Stewart and was born in Bourbon county September 9th, 1839.

June, 1859, she was married to Capt. F. C. Riddell and has been a widow for eleven years, during which time her home has been with her sister, Mrs. Richard Mastin in this city.

Twenty-five years ago Mrs. Riddell moved with her husband from North Middletown to this city. She had been a member of the Christian church for fifty years and was consistent in all her walks and conversations.

Mrs. Riddell is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Richard Mastin, this city, and Mrs. Lodusky Gatewood, of Louisville.

Funeral service will take place on Wednesday morning at 10 A. M., at the home of Richard Mastin, conducted by Rev. Clyde Darsie and Rev. B. W. Trimble, and burial will take place in the North Middletown cemetery.

Of this good woman much could be written, but beauty of words and deeds of love are only flowers rare, which budded and bloomed from her life of cheer. Her thrill was a happy contagion that had a responsive helpfulness from those who lived under even dark clouds. Such a woman will be missed here, but all along her way will be a trace of the happy joy character that she was.

"The Home of Coal"

WHEN ONE FEELS FOOLISH

Did you ever try to guess which shell the little pea was under? If you have, you will remember how foolish you felt when the grafter took your coin and gave you the laugh. You didn't mind the loss of the money perhaps, but you hated to know you had been a boob.

If you are tricked into buying any of the thousands of fake stocks that are flooding the country you will give the gang another chance to call you "the poor fish."

You could not tell which shell the pea was under because it wasn't under the shells. It nestled safely in the crook of the con man's little finger. You cannot pick a winner from among the wild cat stocks because there is no winner except the fraudulent promoter. The value is not there.

"Come on boys, buy stocks and run a shoe string into a fortune." That's the bait they feed you. They are perfectly willing and anxious to take Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps in exchange for their "fortune makers," not because they ache to do you a good turn, but because they are out to get something for nothing.

If you are so anxious to buy country homes and automobiles for someone why not try buying them for yourself. You can put the first dollar out of your pay every week into War Savings Stamps and buy a flivver, but if you fail to save you are a flivver.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

Now that the Christmas of 1919 has come and passed into history with all the rest of the nineteen hundred odd years that have passed since the event that gave rise to the year's happiest celebration, the minds of men and women turn to the new year and the "resolution making" period arrives.

The fact that the greater part of these resolutions are broken before the new year is many weeks or months old should not deter us from continuing the practice of forming new resolves, and we should determine that we at least will be among those who at the end of 1920 will have the satisfaction of knowing that we have faithfully kept the compact with ourselves.

Self-denial has ever been the main theme of the major part of these new year resolutions. In those almost forgotten times, before memorable July 1, 1919, the closing night of the year was a favorite time for bidding farewell forever to John Barleycorn and his allies—the bubbling wine and the foaming stein.

My Lady Nicotine also received many a sad jolt, from which she recovered in due time, and the man who was loudest in his pretensions that he was done forever and for aye with the seductive charm that came from the weed was in a few months, or a short time at best, drawing solace from the pipe of briar or meerschaum, or from a fragrant Havana, stogie or cigarette.

Of course there were countless other resolves that were given more or less publicity around the festal boards that groaned and some time roared because of the choice viands and the tempting decanturs and iced pails that adorned the tables, but in the main those mentioned were prime favorites.

And self-denial was the principal. Man kind of hankers after punishing himself. He feels rather like a hero when he feels that he is bearing up under deprivations of which he himself is the instigator.

But this New Year's Eve there will be no need of wasting time over "swearing off" of the cup that cheers and sometimes inebriates. A will stronger than our own has spoken, and the day of the distinction between the various grades of drinkers or tipplers is supposed to have vanished from the earth.

But there is ample room for other resolves. One that should appeal to all is that the resolution maker intends to "get ahead" in 1920. There are opportunities that may never come again. The world is just recovering from the most devastating war that history can recount. The surpluses are exhausted in every corner of the earth. There was never such a demand for raw materials. Manufactured articles are sold months before they are made and the entire world is crying out for increased production.

Salaries are higher than they ever were, and wages are now higher than salaries were before this new era set in. But if the toiler spends his income as fast as he receives it, all this wonderful opportunity means nothing to his future. When the reaction comes he will be in no better position to battle with the world than he was in the olden times when dollars were scarce and jobs were not so abundant.

But the one who saves systematically and intelligently is the one who will be the gainer in the end. This new year is a fine time to make a real resolution. There may appear somewhat of the self-denial in it—this setting aside of a certain part of one's income for the future. But it will pay in the long run.

The Treasury Department of the United States has established a Savings Division just especially to meet the changed times. This government of ours looks a long ways ahead. It has been for more than a year now conducting a campaign of education along lines of thrift.

It has caused to be issued some wonderfully attractive government securities—Treasury Savings Certificates and War Savings Stamps. These are designed not for the capitalists, but for the man of moderate means. In these securities no one may hold more than $1,000 in any one issue. The government wants these securities to be in the hands of many people, rather than in the hands of the few capitalists.

These securities draw interest at the rate of 4.27 per cent. if held until maturity. If a man buys a full thousand dollars in these and still has money to invest, there are issues of Liberty Bonds that he can still buy on the market at attractive prices. The government pays the interest on these bonds with the utmost regularity and when they fall due they will be paid just as sure as the sun shines. A resolution to get into the saving

A vast amount of work now remains to be done which the intervention of war has necessarily delayed and accumulated, and the result is that very large capital expenditures must be made to make up for the interruptions inevitably due to the war, and to prepare the railroads to serve adequately the increased traffic throughout the country.

WALKER D. HINES,
Director General of Railroads.

Work more—
Produce more—
Save more—

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can grow only as fast as the railroads grow.

A PROBLEM OF PEACE

During the world war more than four and a half million of our soldiers, sailors and marines had their lives insured by the United States government for a term of five years, in sums ranging from $1,000 to $10,000, the average policy approximating $8,700. Because of the rapid demobilization and the confusion attending a resumption of civil life, a great many of those who were insured have allowed their insurance to lapse or be canceled. The problem now is to get them back.

Co-operating with the Bureau of War Risk Insurance in a general educational campaign are leading social welfare organizations and thousands of volunteer units, making up an enormous field force for spreading the gospel of permanent government insurance.

This insurance is not for everyone. It is only for the former service men and women of our Army, Navy and Marine Corps. Congress wanted them to enjoy certain privileges of life insurance protection during the war, and it wants them to continue the protection now that peace has come. The terms of government insurance are low, the provisions liberal and attractive and behind every policy stands the security of the United States.

The least move sent dagger-like pains all through my body. I was confined to my bed and delirious part of the time. I was in misery. My kidneys acted irregularly and I could get no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Duerson's Drug Store. They helped me right along until I was improved in every way. TRIFLES FROM COWS' HORNS

Source of Tortoiseshell and Other Things That Are Useful as Well as Pretty.

A cow's horn is susceptible of objects of beauty when properly manipulated. First, the core is taken out of it and sent to the glue factory, after which the horn is sawed into pieces. These are boiled in oil, which makes the material so soft that it can be rolled out into a sheet, like putty. The sheet thus prepared is stamped, colored and put through a variety of processes until it comes out in the shape of a most exquisite comb or other object in elaborate carved "tortoiseshell."

Cups and other vessels, so thin as to be transparent, and most elegant and ornamental, are made from cows' horns. Likewise cane and umbrella heads, and handles for knives and spoons.

In the National museum at Washington is exhibited a real "great horn spoon," made by an Indian artificer from the horn of a Rocky mountain goat. Properly speaking, it is a ladle, with a bowl big enough to hold a quart of soup.

DRESSED FOR THE OCCASION

Chilly Mortal Evidently Only Enjoyed Boat Rides When His Attire Was Suitable.

Down along the Wabash, boat rides are very popular indeed. An Indianapolis lawyer went down to his brother's home in this neighborhood for his vacation. One evening the family took him on a boat ride and were rather surprised that he did not express as much elation over the event as they did. A few evenings later they announced that there would be another one the first of the next week. The lawyer listened and then wrote a long letter home.

Two days later the parcel post man brought him a large box. He did not confide the contents of it to anyone. But he went on the boat ride and enjoyed it. He also demanded more boat rides, and in fact before he left, was out on the water almost every evening. His brother wondered over the change in him but couldn't guess the reason for it until he visited in Indianapolis recently and was told by his mother that she had dispatched the lawyer his winter flannels, for boat-riding purposes.—Indianapolis News.

CALIFORNIA'S BIG TREES.

Authorities on the subject who have examined the big trees of California, declare that they have grown more than 4,000 years. They were growing when the pyramids of Egypt were built, they were old trees when Rome was founded and had been growing for centuries when Columbus set out on the voyage that proved so important. Some of the ruins of Greece and Assyria, of course, antedate these trees, but no growing things. If man's greed would spare these trees they would doubtless live for hundreds of years to come, for the ordinary forest fire has no effect upon them. They are, however, wanted for timber.

DEADLY GERMS IN THE JORDAN.

Bathing in the River Jordan, famous in sacred history, has lost its popularity as the result of the discovery by American physicians that it is a dangerous disease germ carrier, according to the Detroit News. One of the first steps taken by the American Red Cross unit reaching that region was an analysis of the river water. It was found laden with the germs of skin diseases and other maladies. There have never been restrictions on bathing in the stream, regardless of the physical conditions of the bathers, but the revelations of the danger lurking in the Jordan's water caused the local authorities to place a ban on the unrestricted bathing.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford car can well be called the "peoples car," because there are more than 3,000,000 of them in daily operation. That is about four to one of the nearest follower in the motor car industry. This would not be so if the Ford car had not for sixteen years proven its superiority in service, in durability, and in the low cost for operation and maintenance; this would not be so if the Ford car was not so easy to understand, so simple in construction that anybody and everybody can safely drive it. FERTILE FIELDS FOR DEMAGOGUES (Manufacturers Record, Baltimore, Md.)

There were 4,000,000 men in the American Army. Of these, 1,023,000 were illiterate. One out of every four men could not read or write. Of the white soldiers, 21.5 per cent. could not read or write; of the colored soldiers, 50.6 per cent. could not read or write.

The alphabet is the keystone of civilization. The ability to employ it differentiates man from the brute. The untrained brain is a high-powered automobile loose in heavy traffic without a driver. There is no danger comparable, perhaps, to that of power undisciplined. And that is just what every human brain is when untaught.

We do not believe that the fault lies wholly in inadequate appropriations for education. There is no man living in this country now who cannot get at least a rudimentary education if he wants it. The right to vote and kindred privileges have been bestowed as a matter of course on men, whether they have fitted themselves properly to exercise it or not. There has not been the driving necessity for an education that there should have been. The penalties for ignorance should have been greater than they were.

But, be the cause what it may, the one sure fact is that this nation cannot afford to permit so vast a mass of illiteracy to imperil its institutions. It gives too rich a harvest field to demagogues; it is a drag-anchor on progress; it is a constant threat of violence and an awful indictment of our capacity to govern wisely.

We do not think the solution of the problem can be found in a centralization of educational direction in Washington, with large federal subsidies for state school systems. It sounds good, but that ends it. Rather do we think that communities should be friendly rivals in extirpating ignorance, as they have vied with one another in driving out disease, until the time comes when illiteracy in a village will brand it with as deep a shame as would its countenance today of unrestricted leprosy.

And, we would add, or as would the deeper shame, a return of the open saloon.

AHEAD OF ALL OTHERS

Our people may have some idea of the marvelous growth and development of all business and professions of the United States by considering the first census to have been taken by 650 persons and that it is now necessary to employ 90,000 persons to take the Fourteenth census, beginning January 2nd, 1920. It is said this census for 1920 will be unsurpassed as to system, usefulness and statistical information by any census taken of any country of the world. Of this we are justly proud, and promise for our readers they will be prepared to answer all questions propounded by the "Census Man," when they call at our homes.

TIME FOR CALM DELIBERATION

This is an hour to be thoughtful, to reason well. Confronting us, as a state, are supreme needs and a broad-minded vision of all the issues that may be introduced to the coming legislature must be met in calmness and with courage, that the state in all its departments may go forward on her mission of justice to all.

BE ON GUARD

The State Legislature will be on the coming week, and if we individuals would be heard we must be thoughtful, reasonable and bold in expressions. To that body politic, we would gladly give space for an intelligent argument relative to live issues, and which are properly signed. We are for the people, and cheerfully do we contribute to their benefits. The people should be on guard now, with the Legislature soon in session, and should, with firm grip, hold onto each representative chosen to serve, and representatives must be made to remember they are serving the masses and should give attention to their reasoning on all subjects that may come before them. Much has been promised, much will be undertaken, and the men of courage down here among the masses, must be heard and respected.

1920

The year 1919 is passing with all its incidents, and before another Tuesday will become a part of history. Are we acutely sensitive of errors made? If not in the beginning of 1920 we would pause just long enough to turn on the lights that we may see ourselves as we really are and when the morning of January 1st dawns our resolutions may be such that our lives for 1920 may be free of hurtful recurrences in business, all lines of duties, social and religious.

Promising ourselves a close observance of hearts and acts, we resolve to give our full energies in bringing to pass whatever may be for the betterment of all peoples within our circle.

Thus pledging and with hearts of love, we wish a prosperous and happy New Year to all.

RETURN TO OWNERS

The war with Germany and her allies ended, the President has decided March 1st as the time to return the railroads and express companies to their owners. To our way of thinking this is the proper course to pursue. There was a purpose in the government management of the roads and with that fulfilled the President had no alternative. As to the question of the government ownership of railroads, that question is not to be considered now; neither does the results from operation of railroads during the war period furnish argument pro or con for the government ownership of roads or express companies.

RESIGNS POSITION

Ratliff H. Lane, for several years assistant cashier in the Exchange Bank of this city, has resigned his position and will become associate editor and business manager of the Sentinel-Democrat. Mr. Lane has long been a resident of our city, occupying a prominent place in business and social circles. He has won for himself the respect and confidence of our people and will prove a valuable addition to the Sentinel staff. Dawson Brother, of Owingsville, succeeds Mr. Lane as assistant cashier at the bank, and comes to this city highly recommended.

A LITTLE OVERFLOW

If it should come to you, in life,
To choose a place on this broad earth,
A place to hold, almost as dear
As the fair place that saw your birth.

Roam where you will, in every clime,
Go North, South, to the East or West;
Honestly seeking in good faith,
For the place you think is best.

Try the mountains, try the valleys,
Try the prairies' level reaches;
Try the ocean's rock-bound shore,
And its shining sandy beaches.

Try the cities with all their wealth,
Where so many find great good luck;
But when you want true friendliness,
Then come here to "Old Kaintuck."

Here they give you wondrous welcome,
Clasp your hand with kindly touch;
Say the words of hearty greeting
That to the stranger, means so much.

Here the climate is just ideal,
It's not too hot and not too cold,
Here the people all look happy,
And never seem to get real old.

Here they give you much good food,
That you'll never care to roam,
When you've visited as I have,
A typical Kentucky home.

So, my friend, if it comes to you,
To leave your home, you'll be in luck,
If God lets your wandering feet
Lead you here to "Old Kaintuck."
SUE McKEE.

GOOD TO HIS MOTHER

Wounded-with-many-arrows is an Indian living in South Dakota.

According to an Indian custom the first thing an Indian mother sees or says after her child is born may be chosen as the infant's name. The night of his birth, in April, 1891, the mother saw a warrior who had been wounded by many arrows; hence the name given to the newborn child.

Run-Down, Nervous Women

Louisville, Ky.:—"Last year I became terribly run-down and nervous and had the symptoms peculiar to women of my age. Three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription so completely strengthened and built me up that I felt like a different woman; my nerves gave me no further trouble and I felt better in every way. 'Favorite Prescription' can be relied upon to relieve every symptom of feminine weakness and I take great pleasure in recommending it to all women who are ailing, weak or nervous."—MRS. OLIVER SHEARER, 247 N. Campbell.

IN MIDDLE-LIFE
St. Matthew, Ky.:—"I suffered with such pain under my shoulder blades at night that I could hardly turn over from one side onto the other—that was during the 'change'. I also had heat flashes and functional disturbance. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription which gave good results. Have been a user of the same ever since. I can say that it is a splendid remedy for those who suffer with such troubles as women have to endure. I recommend it to all who suffer from such." "I am very thankful to Dr. Pierce for his wonderful 'Favorite Prescription' and for what it has done for us in our family."—MISS MARY C. THOMAS, Route 20, Box 104.

"Weak, Run-Down and Nervous"
Frankfort, Ky.:—"I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women. Some time ago I was all run-down in health and became so weak it was an effort for me to get around. I was extremely nervous and was greatly in need of something to build me up. I took 'Favorite Prescription' and it was very beneficial in every way. I gained in strength and health and felt altogether like a different person."—MRS. L. E. TRUE, 144 E. Main St.

The following program was delivered by the pupils of that school.

Grumpy's Xmas," by Carroll Sledd, Fieldon Vice, Jeannette Barnes, Bernice McCracken, Mabel Foley, Genevieve Settles, J. B. Garrison and Ruby Evans.

The program was exceedingly well rendered and was enjoyed by all.

At the same time a quartette of high school girls, Clara Foley, Ida Calk, Nannie Mae Coons and James Barnes sang "Holy Night! Silent Night." They were applauded to the limit.

Healthy, Robust People Popular Everywhere

Good Health Creates an Attractive, Magnetic Personality and Wins Admiration

Healthy People Are Happiest

Pepto-Mangan Has Put Thousands Into the Healthy, Full-Blooded Class

How the red-blooded, energetic, and attractive man or woman is envied by those who feel that it will always be their unfortunate lot to be thin, pale and weak-bodied!

And yet why continue to envy men and women who possess a vigorous, healthy physical condition and an attractive, magnetic personality? Poor health and lack of vitality are often merely the result of impoverished blood.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is for people whose bodies suffer from lack of proper blood nourishment. Pepto-Mangan enriches the blood and increases the number of healthy red blood cells, which are so necessary to carry the proper nourishment, vigor and strength to every part of the body.

Physicians introduced Gude's Pepto-Mangan to the public because they knew that it contained the very properties that are so sorely needed to build up thin, watery blood. For your convenience Pepto-Mangan is prepared in two forms, liquid and tablet. Both contain exactly the same medical value.

Insist on the genuine Pepto-Mangan. To be sure you are buying the genuine Pepto-Mangan, ask your druggist for "Gude's." And be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package.

YOUNG A COLONEL

December 3rd Tipton Young was appointed a Colonel on Governor Black's staff and somehow this appointment did not find its way into print. Later Governor Morrow began the making of Colonels out of a different quality and about that time Young's appointment was mentioned and it would seem Young is a Colonel under Morrow's appointment, but before his friends here can begin to jolly we give the facts of his appointment.

MACAULAY'S LOVE OF BOOKS

If anybody would make me the greatest king that ever lived, with palaces and gardens and fine dinners and wine, and coaches and beautiful clothes, and hundreds of servants, on condition that I would not read books, I would not be a king. I would rather be a poor man in a garret with plenty of books than a king who did not love reading.—Macaulay.

TRAINING LITTLE CITIZENS

There is not enough time given to constructive work, to the pleasure of "making things" either in the home or school.

In a suggestive book, "Home, School and Vacation," a mother writes, "A young child's capability and skill grow rapidly. It is a good plan after he is four years to manage so that he always can have something visible to show his father, for instance, at the end of the day, something made with his own hands."

This wise mother adds another reason besides the pleasure this creative work gives. She says, "If the mind after this age (four years) is let to play all day, it rapidly grows adverse to ordered application and submission to authority."

Now to be practical, what can childhood make? I should like to show you the air-plane made from a cigar box by a little colored boy of nine.

Air-planes are naturally interesting to children this year. It is always wise to allow them to follow the life interests of the adult world whenever they appeal to little people.

But you ask what can younger children make in the air craft line? They can fold stiff paper into darts and it is surprising to see how high little boys can hurl them. Then too, they can make pin-wheels, and while these do not fly they buzz through the air and afford much amusement. Let the little people make many pin-wheels, large and small and of varied colors, using clothes-pins for handles if no older brother is at hand to whittle a stick. Encourage older and younger children to work together, for self-control and adaptability are gained through social intercourse. It is needless to say that almost all children like to blow soap bubbles. How they fly! See whose will fly the highest!

Another source of interest to children is the well-known scrap book. Little people love to cut out pictures. They may collect them in a box at first, or put all the animals in one envelope, the toys in another and so on. When they can cut and arrange the pictures fairly well help them to mount one sheet. After this practice fold a large piece of paper and let them mount the four pages, then use a book.

To manage paper and scissors, make paste, select pictures, mount and press them with a blotting pad, are all activities which interest and instruct children.

Scrap-books illustrating Bible and other favorite stories, children's poems, the different countries and peoples of the world, and the various trades and occupations not only occupy, but educate little children. Such work is a good pastime for the rainy days or Sundays.

When children have acquired skill in making scrap-books and have learned to select and arrange pic-

FAREWELL TO THE OLD
 Old Year, thy life is well-nigh spent,
 Thy feet are tottering and slow,
 Thy hoary head with age is bent,
 The time is here for thee to go;
 Already in the frozen snow
 A lonely grave is made for thee;
 The winds are chanting dirges low,
 Upon the land and on the sea.

Old Year, thou wert a friend to some
 to some thou wert of worth untold,
 Thy days were blessings, every one,
 More precious far than shining
 gold;
 But unto others, thou a foe
 Did prove thyself—an enemy,
 Relentless as the chains of woe—
 As ruthless as the maddened sea.

Some will rejoice to know thee dead,
 Others will mourn thee as a friend;
 Some will look back on thee with dread,
 Others their praises to thee lend;
 I never offer praise nor blame,
 Old Year, for what you brought to me,
 For unto me both joy and pain
 Your active hands gave lavishly.

Thy solemn death-hour draws a-nigh
 And hark! I hear thy funeral knell
 Slow pealing through the darkened sky—
 Farewell, Old Year — Farewell, farewell!

HAIL TO THE NEW
 Hail! hail! to thee, O virgin year!
 Net yet a day's length on thy throne—
 Thou with the merry eyes and clear
 And joyous voice of dulcet tone:
 Hail! hail! to thee, thou strong of limb;
 Our praise is thine, O youthful king,
 For thou art pure of woe and sin,
 Thy young hands yet but blessings bring.

The monarch who is laid away
 Within the catacomb of years
 Was harsh and ruthless in his day—
 Seemed less to love our joys than tears;
 We look for blessings manifold,
 New Year, from thy pure, sinless
 hand,
 We trust thy heart will ne'er grow cold
 Toward us—and our Native
 Land.

Bring hailing to the hearts now sore
 From wounds the cruel Old Year made;
 The veil of peacefulness draw o'er
 The woes at each heart-threshold laid;
 We cannot love a tyrant king!
 Our hearts refuse to loyal be
 To one who takes delight to fling
 Upon our hearts keen misery!
 Be kind to us—that we may say,
 When come the time for thee to go;
 "O darling Year, we grieve today,
 Because we all have loved thee
 so!"

1920
 Once more we stand with half-reluctant feet
 Upon the threshold of another year;
 That line where Past and Present
 seem to meet
 In stronger contrast than they do elsewhere.

Look back a moment. Does the present please?
 Or does the weary heart but sigh regret?
 Can recollection smile, or, ill at ease
 With what is past, wish only to forget?

Say, canst thou smile when Memory's
 lingering gaze
 Once more recalls the dying year
 to sight?

Wouldst thou live o'er again those changing days,
 Or bid them fade forever into the night?

A solemn question, and the faltering heart
 Scarce dare say "Yes," yet will not quite say "No."

For joy and sadness both have played their part
 In making up the tale of "long ago."

Here Memory sees the golden sunlight gleam
 Across the path of life and shine awhile;
 And now the picture changes like a dream,
 And sorrow dims the eyes and kills
 the smile.

So—it has gone—where all has gone before;
 The moaning wind has sung the
 dead year's dirge,
 Time's waves roll on against the
 crumbling shore,
 And sinks the worn-out bark beneath the surge.

Here ends the checkered page of prose and verse,
 Of shapely words and lines writ all
 awry,
 There they must stand for better or
 for worse;
 So shut the book and bid the year good-by!

PLEASURE AND MOTOR TRUCKS SHOW PROSPERITY IN KY.

The number of licenses on pleasure autos and motor trucks issued from Frankfort is an evidence of increased prosperity. An average of one family in three own a pleasure car in sections where tobacco has been selling high; 21,883 licenses had been issued to December 26, and 4,000 licenses had been issued on motor cars. Many licenses are expected at the closing hours of the year, which will most likely add 15 per cent. to the above numbers.

Intemperance a Danger.
 As love and self respect are the pillars of the house life, so intemperance is the certain destroyer of the home, attacking as it does the very fabric upon which it rests. Very many people imagine temperance re-

THE NEW YEAR MOTTO

I asked the New Year for some motto sweet,
Some rule of life by which to guide my feet;
I asked and paused; it answered, soft and low:
"God's Will Be Known."

"Will knowledge, then, suffice, New Year?" I cried;
But ere the question into silence died,
The answer came: "Nay; this remember, too,
God's will to do."

"To know; to do; can this be all we give?"
To Him in Whom we are, and move and live?
No more, New Year?" "This, too, must be your care:
God's will to bear."

Once more I asked: "Is there still more to tell?"
And once again the answer sweetly fell:

"Yea, this one thing, all other things above,
God's will to love."

MARRIES IN INDIANA.

A beautiful wedding took place at noon Christmas Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram B. Treat, 335 Whittier Place, Irvington, Indianapolis, Ind., where their daughter, Isabel, was married to Theodore Herman Stagg, of Lethbridge, Alberta, Can., formerly of Mt. Sterling, Ky.

The wedding service was read by the Rev. Wm. B. Marsh, of Akron, O., grandfather of the bride, who conducted the wedding service of her mother on Christmas Day thirty years ago.

Preceding the service Prof. Charles F. Hansen, organist of the 2nd Presbyterian church, of Indianapolis, rendered a delightful program of Christmas Carols, which changed to the wedding march for the entrance of the bridal party.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with holly, southern smilax and poinsettias, and an altar was arranged with palms, poinsettias and tall cathedral candles.

The bride, who entered with her father, wore a charming gown of overseas blue velvet, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Miss Alice Marsh Treat, sister of the bride, was bride's maid, and Mr. J. Laurens Vanzant was best man.

Among the guests present from out of town were the Rev. and Mrs. Wm. B. Marsh, of Akron, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ritchie, of Akron, O. Mr. and Mrs. Staggs came to this city to visit relatives of the bridegroom. They will spend the winter in Chicago, after which they will go to Lethbridge, Alberta, for their residence.

TELEPHONE SOUTHERN ALASKA

Report of United States Geological Survey Deals With Region Little Known.

The region about the headwaters of Copper, Matanuska and Susitna rivers, in southern Alaska, though more accessible than many parts of Alaska that are much better known, had not been fully covered by government surveys until a few years ago, when a party from the United States geological survey, department of the interior, examined and mapped the unsurveyed areas in that region. There has been but little productive mining in that region, and its geology does not encourage the hope that much placer gold will be found there, but gold lodes may yet be discovered at some places. The region will be made accessible by the government railroad to the Matanuska coal field, and systematic prospecting for placer gold or lodes may perhaps be warranted.

A report on the region, by Theodore Chapin, geologist, has been published by the United States geological survey as Bulletin 668, under the title, "The Nelchina-Susitna Region, Alaska." The report sketches the geography and geology of the region and contains topographic and geologic maps covering about 10,000 square miles as well as half-tone views, and includes brief notes on the work done on gold placers.

The report can be obtained free of charge from the director of the United States geological survey at Washington.

SKEPTICAL OF NEW METAL

Experts Slow to Believe Reports of Wonderful Discovery of Alloy Long Looked For.

A metal lighter than any yet known, and as strong as or stronger than steel, has for years been the dream of many, and every now and then rumors are circulated to the effect that at last it has been discovered, says the Scientific American. The advantages which such a metal would have, especially for aircraft, are obvious, but unfortunately it is generally found on investigation that there is a "snag" somewhere.

"The latest report to be circulated relates to a new magnesium alloy, said to have been discovered by a metal company of Montreal, Canada. The new alloy, it is stated, is only two-thirds the weight of aluminum and is 'as strong as steel.' It is said to be especially suitable for pistons and connecting rods of aero and motorcar engines. It is to be hoped that some of the qualities attributed to the new alloy may, on closer examination, be substantiated."

FOOD VALUE OF MILK.

ASTOUNDING statistics concerning the food value of milk have been compiled by Doctor Rosenow of Harvard university. The actual food value of one quart of milk he has discovered to be equal to three-quarters of a pound of beef, two pounds of chicken, eight eggs. A glass of milk is equal in value to two large eggs or a large serving of lean meat or two moderate-sized potatoes or five tablespoonfuls of cooked rice or two slices of bread. A meal consisting of a glass of milk and two slices of bread give you the food value you would obtain from four eggs.

Mrs. Bensonhurst — Isn't she dressy, though?

"Oh, $50 a month."

"Is she a good cook? I mean, does she burn anything?"

"Only the $50, I believe."

NO HELP FOR THE CONSUMER.

"I'm in doubt about the wisdom of arresting the food profiteers."

"Why? I should think you'd want them punished."

"It may be all right to punish them, but as a customer, I'm afraid they'll raise prices again to get money to pay their fines."

QUALIFIED.

"Well, young man, what business are you going to take up?"

"I'm going into roofing and spouting. I'll do well. I'll coin money. I'll make good."

"I think you'll make good at spouting, at any rate."

In the United States the State has assumed the responsibility for educating the people within its borders. The Federal Government offers and provides co-operation, advice, information and services of great value, but the right of the State to conduct the educational function remains unimpaired. It is up to the State authorities everywhere to see that they carry out the duties which are entrusted to them under this system of government. When the State has fallen down the Federal Government must take remedial steps.

Admittedly, the State authorities are best acquainted with conditions within their own commonwealths and with the sentiment of their own people. They know what should be done.

In practice, how does this principle work out? Does the State always have a properly balanced educational system? Is the right kind of emphasis laid upon physical education? The war has opened our eyes to the health conditions which we ignored a few years ago. We had been told to watch the health of American school children, for alarming symptoms, reported everywhere, showed that the national average was none too high. But what has been done? Only a small number of States have enacted measures which, in the belief of educational experts, doctors and others qualified by training and study to express an opinion, go to the heart of the trouble and provide for real physical education. What are some of the essential principles of a well-developed system? Obviously, a child requires exercise, drill, study, recreation and rest; he or she needs balanced rations, and should be instructed in sanitation. The care of the teeth and the feet—in fact, of every part of the body—is something which has not yet been learned by every American school boy and girl.

Unless a community has taken direct and drastic steps to safeguard its healthy children and to bring its subnormal boys and girls back into condition, by a measure especially drawn for that purpose, it is quite likely that some, if not most, of the important elements enumerated above have been neglected.

Individual citizens must recognize their duty in this connection by bringing their own influence to bear upon their communities, and upon their Legislatures. Educational authorities in towns and villages, as the immediate custodians of the physical and mental welfare of their children, are still more directly concerned with this problem. But, after all, it is the State legislator who must assume the heaviest burden of responsibility. For this reason, a large number of national organizations, which feel that the problem is upon their conscience, and which are co-operating through the medium of the National Physical Education Service of Washington, D. C., desire to call public attention to the action taken in thirteen States in behalf of physical education and to the movement which is going on in a group of other States for the purpose of enacting suitable measures.

The lubrication of the main bearings, wrist pin bearings, connecting rod bearings and pistons is a combination splash and pump system, with an oil presser gauge on the dash and a gauge on the crank case.

The oil pump is self-thawing and so constructed that should there be any water in the oil in cold weather causing the pump to freeze up, the self-thawing apparatus of the Buick oil pump will automatically thaw it out quickly, eliminating the possibility of injury to the pump.

THE TRUTH TELLER, BATTLE CREEK, MICHIGAN, SAYS

The law against advertising remedies for venereal diseases in Michigan and requiring the reporting of such cases to boards of health is being enlarged upon in the usual way, with the result that doctors are refusing to obey it. The law was denounced at Grand Rapids by allopaths, because it was proving a boomerang. Those afflicted are sending or going out of the state for treatment, and this method cannot be interfered with even if the proposed federal law is passed. Remedies can be had by express, by automobile or manufactory can be established in each state.

The greatest sample of wholly unnecessary and very expensive bureau is attached to the Agricultural Department and known as the Public Health Service. It is really the Washington branch of the American Medical Association. Every doctor in the Public Health Service is required to be—and becomes automatically—a member of the American Medical Association. This Association is now composed entirely of orthodox allopathic doctors of the political class. None of the people at the head of this Association are of the kind that a wise man would call to his bedside in the event of sickness. Not one of them has any considerable reputation earned at the bedside, and the great majority are doctors who have absolutely failed as practitioners. The best doctors in America are outside the American Medical Association and of the Public Health Service. If we are wrong, tell us why and we will correct any error.

This bureau of the Public Health Service has spent millions of dollars in alleged investigations and experiments and have discovered nothing of any value for the conservation or improvement of the public health. There is a vast amount of talk, and the public printer is burdened with reports which are absolutely worthless. The public pays good money, needed for good purposes, and gets nothing but a lot of bunk and vapor. The Public Health Service has not a leg to stand on and is one of the numerous bureaus which should be discarded as expensive and useless except as a harbor for the medical derelicts who have stranded on the shores of incompetency.

The legislator who imagines that he is upholding the will of the people and will perpetuate his tenure of office by standing in with the medical trust is due for a rude awakening from his dream, for opposition to state medicine is now organized and it outnumbers the American Medical Association ten to one at the present time, and is increasing by thousands every week.—Exchange.

Thoroughbreds Are Sold At
Fancy Figures

Fashionable Gatherings at Saratoga
When Aristocracy of Horse Family
Are Placed on the Block.

An astonishing expansion of the thoroughbred horse sales business and an amazing increase in thoroughbred values is revealed in the cast up of the eastern traffic in running horse stock for the fiscal year ending August 31, by E. J. Tranter, president of the Fasig-Tipton Company, of New York. The Fasig-Tipton Company has undisputed control of the eastern sales business now. And the sales in so far as thoroughbred yearlings offered in the eastern market are concerned are held mainly in the month of August and conducted in a splendidly appointed establishment built by Mr. Tranter three or four seasons back after the best European models, but with certain American establishments. Everybody who is anything in the thoroughbred world, or ever hopes to be, flocks to Saratoga in August. The thoroughbred yearling sales, and especially those held at night under the glare of electric arcs, have become social functions. Men never think of going out to the night sales from the palatial cottages and the great hotels save in evening dress. Women attend them invariably in evening dress, or undress, according to one's point of view.

The best appreciation of the expansion of the thoroughbred auction sales business and of the increase in thoroughbred values is to be obtained by comparing the records of 1919 with the records of 1917 and 1918. Two hundred and seventy-three yearlings were led to the auction block in 1917 and they brought a total of $333,275, an average of $1,404 a head. Sixty-seven horses of racing age brought $116,100, an average of $1,732.83 a head. In 1918 two hundred and thirty-five thoroughbred yearlings brought a total of $248,620, an average of $1,057.96 a head; nine brood mares fetched $20,950, an average of $2,327.77 a head; and 152 horses of racing age fetched $200,810, an average of $1,321.12 a head.

Run Into Big Money.

More than three-quarters of a million dollars—$879,210 to be exact—was realized at the auction block at Saratoga for the thoroughbreds the Tranter Company offered to bidders. Two hundred and twenty-seven yearlings brought $608,500, an average of $2,688.58 a head; nineteen broodmares fetched $136,300, an average of $7,173.69 a head; three stallions brought $21,800, an average of $7,267, and eighty-three horses in training fetched $117,610, an average of $1,417. These figures relate merely to the auction sales business. Many horses of various ages have been bought and sold privately. Montford Jones paid $40,000 in June for the 2-year-old Brookholt, a son of Ballot. S. C. Hildreth paid $17,500 for Dominique, a son of Peter Quince. Hildreth is said to have refused an offer of $150,000 for the 3-year-old Purchase. Larry Waterman, a successful New York broker, paid $20,000 for the 3-year-old S. C. Hildreth. Mr. Tranter, who keeps a keen watch on the thoroughbred market, generally estimates that some $100,000 a half million dollars will be changed hands in transactions in thoroughbred blood before the first of the year. Many horses of various ages will be sold in Kentucky this fall.

It was thought that the top limit of American buyers as to the sum sales prices was reached by Walter M. Jeffmer of 1918 when he paid $15,000 for a French-bred yearling by Sweeper out of Zuna, which was the Saratoga Special in August under the name of Golden Brook. Then Commander J. K. L. Ross, of Montreal, paid $14,500 for a colt by Bl. Jester out of Primula, and Joseph Widener paid $14,000 for a son of Vulcan and Fairy Gold which was sold for half brothers. But and Flitt has been badly shattered this time and dollars and $15,000 were ten the prices for good looking young bloods last August. A breeder thought a youngster that looked like a thoroughbred and boasted of a fair chance who failed to get from $5,000 to $8,000 for his stuff went back to Kentucky or Virginia utterly disgusted.

A Few Big Prices.

W. V. Thraves, a Virginian, who is about to embark on a thoroughbred producing enterprise at Long Ridge Farm in Fayette county, Ky., paid $24,500 for a yearling son of Ultimus offered by John Oliver Keene. Commander Ross paid $25,000 for an imported son of Sunster and Marian Hood. Philip T. Chinn, acting for Mr. Waterbury, paid $22,500 for a son of Celt and Sand Dune that claims the sprinter The Boy for half brother. W. H. Coe paid $15,000 for a brown son of Celt and Patricia IV. Commander Ross paid $36,000 for Melody, a broodmare by Meddler out of Ballantrae, that was offered at the dispersal sale of the Mackay stud.

The yearlings from Claiborne and Ellerslie studs offered by Arthur B. Hancock brought the unexpected total of $146,200, an average from Claiborne of $3,071.43 and for Ellerslie of $6,070.59. Other breeders of American stock that is in vogue just now fared equally well.—Adv.

THRIFT

THRIFT is labor's greatest reward.

Time and circumstances changes, hereby giving us new opportunities to be thrifty.

Nature, when rightly understood, is always thrifty.

Thrift throws the light of knowledge on the financial pathway of life.

Life's three great virtues—truth, hope and charity, are all strengthened by thrift.

Thrift is the power that opens the gates to the realm of financial independence.

Thrift is the chisel winds that melt the ice barriers to the spring-time of success.

The thrifty home where the savings are weekly a monthly increased, is usually a realm of peace.

No matter what religious belief you follow, your financial doctrine should be the creed of thrift.

Thrift is duty, a duty to ourselves and our country, and is rewarded by good life.

A savings account is a bright ray of sunshine in ninety per cent. of our troubles.

An important unit of the citizenry of this great country it is your duty to practice and teach thrift.

Thrift not only builds a strong foundation for the present, but also stores up great benefits for coming generations.

Beware of promised big dividends. Thrift says: "A safe investment is one which bears reasonable interest and always keeps the principle unimpaired."

Talk as you will about the Devil, he is always at his post and ready to wait on customers.

MEET IT!

Just be happy on the way;
Trouble—don't greet it.
Set your stakes for the brighter day,
But walk along and meet it!

There may be ideal husbands and ideal wives in this world, but somehow or other they are never married to each other.

THE XMAS SHOOT

The Christmas shooting contest closed Christmas Day at 3:30 P. M. Newton Hoskins won the first prize, a 20-gauge shotgun; Algier Daniels won second prize; Arthur Daniels, third prize; W. W. Hockaday, fourth prize; W. E. Henson, fifth prize; C. B. Dale, sixth prize; Daniel Skidmore, seventh prize; Ollie Rankin, eighth prize. The contest became quite interesting at about 4 P. M., when they began to shoot off their ties, and in the rounds the long watched for perfect score was made by Arthur Daniels, of Camargo. The one best part of the contest as conceded by all the contestants and public as well, was that it was a fair and square contest, and the winners were awarded their prizes purely on skill and marksmanship.
